Tim Navarre/Mayor Williams Kenai Peninsula Borough--want to meet with the Governor June 13 in Soldotna during AK Global Award event. I told Navarre that if she flies in to the event, and flies out, we probably won't be able to schedule "meetings." He is somewhat distressed about LNG reauthorization and North Kenai Spur road extension and said they need to have a meeting within the next two weeks. I told him I was not at liberty to just schedule something like this, but could he please supply a briefing paper about their concerns? In the meantime, how should I deal with this request and who should talk to them? Thanks! Kari.

Subject: Canadian Ambassador -- Meeting with Governor Palin at WGA in South Dakota
Importance: High

Dear Ms. Spencer,

The Canadian Ambassador to the United States, Michael Wilson, will attend the annual meeting of the Western Governors Association (WGA), scheduled for June 9-12 in Deadwood, South Dakota. We understand that Governor Palin will also attend, and given the importance of Alaska to Canada, Ambassador Wilson is very interested in meeting with Governor Palin to discuss priority issues for Alaska and Canada, specifically the natural gas pipeline project and the Western Hemisphere Travel Initiate (WHTI).

Oil and gas are essential elements of both the Canadian and Alaskan economies, and as you know, a number of Canadian companies are active in oil and gas exploration in Alaska, in addition to mining and other industries. We understand that the Alaska Gasline Inducement Act was signed by the Governor in Fairbanks today (June 6). Canada supports bringing northern gas to market and has watched with interest the AGIA process. Today's signature makes a meeting between the Governor and the Canadian Ambassador early next week particularly timely.

As well, Alaska and Canada share 1,500 miles of border, and Canada is committed to working with Alaska to ensure your State's geographic reality and the unique Canada-Alaska relationship are taken into account in the implementation of WHTI.

The Ambassador's schedule is quite flexible at the WGA. He will arrive in Deadwood at noon on Sunday and depart on Tuesday morning.

Given the strong relationship between Canada and Alaska and our many shared priorities and unique northern perspective, we are hopeful that a meeting between Governor Palin and Ambassador Wilson will be possible on the margins of the WGA, particularly given the two have not yet had an opportunity to meet.

In order to coordinate the meeting, please contact me at at (202) 682-7735 or on my cell phone at

(202) 528-2290.

Many thanks and I look forward to hearing from you soon.

I met with your special assistants today to talk to them about the boards that fall under their departments and any suggestions they have for good people they met throughout the session that would be good board members. I asked questions based on character, background, the way they felt the direction of the administration was going, where they work, the issue(s) they were talking to the special assistants about, etc. They provided a lot of helpful information and gave me some good names of people to consider for some of the technical seats we've been trying to fill (ie: doctors, attorneys, archeologists, consumer/provider). I will vet the names and bring you guys a final list for your consideration.

I also sent an email to Kris (Perry) for her thoughts on people that we need to get plugged in. I hope to touch base with her soon to share some thoughts.

Thanks. I hope Fairbanks was successful.

Subject: Mid-East Visit/Week of July 16th  CONFIDENTIAL ***

I was advised today by the Department of Defense that there is an excellent likelihood that you could visit the mid-East during the week of July 16th.

If this works, you would fly into DC on Sunday and would travel to the Pentagon on Monday morning for briefings. You would then fly, probably on a DoD aircraft, to Kuwait to visit Alaska troops. It is also likely that you would be taken into Iraq for a short visit followed by a flight to Germany to visit with wounded troops.

DoD asks that you block out the full week of July 16th. If you are able to go, they will provide additional details soon. In the past, DoD has taken care of everything beginning with the briefings on Monday morning and bringing you back to the Pentagon at the end of the trip. All other arrangements are our responsibility.

General Campbell asked me to determine whether he could accompany you. Unfortunately, the answer is in the negative. No Adjutant Generals or gubernatorial staff have been permitted on these trips. However, Dan Wilmont, who has been on many similar trips previously, would be your escort. In addition, at least one other Governor is expected to go.

Dod needs to know the disposition of Alaska National Guard troops in Kuwait so that arrangements can be made for you to see them. Iraq will be more problematic for security reasons. DoD says that we should look to General Campbell for information on the location of Alaska units you would like to visit.

In addition, Governors come equipped with lapel pins, flags, and most importantly, coins to distribute to the troops they visit. I wasn't involved in this phase of Governor Murkowski's trip, but General Campbell or Kari Spencer probably know what was done to fulfill this need.

For security reasons, we have been advised to keep our plans to a very small group. Please let me know how you would like to proceed.

Secretary Kempthorne's office asked me to advise you that Henri Bisson, formerly Alaska State Director of the BLM and currently the Deputy National Director, will temporarily replace Drue Pearce as Senior Advisor to the Secretary on Alaska affairs. Henri will continue as Deputy Director while he performs his new role.

The Secretary is apparently still looking for a permanent replacement. I have asked for further information about applicants and timing but have heard nothing yet in response.

One consequence of the interim arrangement is that Hans Neidig, the Secretary's Anchorage representative, will play a more important role. There will also be a replacement for Jennifer Thompson, Drue's current assistant, who will be joining her in the Office of Pipeline Coordinator.

I have known Henri Bisson for many years. In my opinion, he is a strong and knowledgeable advocate on Alaska issues and is very easy to work with. I believe that many of the people on this email would share these conclusions.
